

I extracted the following information from the microfilm copy of a manuscript deposited in National Library Dublin ma 5456. Seamus O'Cassidy manuscripts Copy of the religious Census of Cary Baarony 1734. On checking further I discovered that this was an extract from a Trinity College manuscript ms 1059: Bishop Reaves Papers. This was not available for photocopying so the O'Casside manuscript had to suffice.

The parishes covered are: Parish of Ballintoy; Part of the Parish of Billy, Parish of Culfeightrin; Parish of Ramoan, Parish of Armoy, Part of Parish of Derrykeighan.

This list comprises the land denominations (Townland), the chief tenant and each householder. Householders have been designated by religion as follows: C: Curch of Ireland, D: Discenters (Presbyterian); P Papist (Roman Catholic)

Page numbers, which relate to the Reeves manuscript, are gi en together with subtotals of the various denominations. I have placed the last page at the beginnin in order to indicate the numbers involved in the census.

	C	D	P
Ballintoy	217	43	38
Billy inside Barony	80	97	2
Culfeightrin	93	93	271
Ramoan	142	93	115
Armory	52	60	115
Totals for five Parishes of Cary	584	316	469

Note: These totals don't agree. If part of Derrykeighan is included the totals are as follows:

Part of Derrykeighan	584	316	469
	12	52	26
	596	368	495

Parish of Culfeightrin

Note: Culfeightrin begins on the lower part of page 133. Unortunately the land denominations are not property identified at the beginning of the list. What seems to have become the White estate consisting of 13 or more townlands being lumped together as Curraghmore and Curraghbege.
